

RULES OF MANUSCRIPTS PUBLISHING

in the Journal Perm University Herald.

Series “Philosophy. Psychology. Sociology”

1. Generally the period of publication of the article that was approved by the reader should not exceed three months from the date of receipt. The date of receipt shall be considered the date of receipt of the manuscript by the Editorial Board via e-mail.
2. Usually the manuscripts are published in the order of their submission. The Editor-in-Chief is eligible to change the order of publication of the articles as an exceptional case.
3. The Editorial Board reserves the right to compress the article or to introduce changes in the manuscript that do not modify its import without securing approval of the authors.
4. If the Editorial Board does not share full or partial opinion of the author of published manuscripts, it may turn attention to this fact by the footnote.
5. The articles accepted for publication are assigned a DOI index (in a case the Editorial Board has funds for this assignment).
6. The Editorial Board is not responsible for unreliable data contained in the articles. The author is responsible for the accuracy of data contained in the article.
7. Intellectual property rights violation is above the law. Reprint of content of the scientific journal is allowed only with the agreement of the Editorial Board. Consent letter of the Editorial Board is essential condition for reprint; references are obligatory for citation of the scientific journal.
8. Manuscripts accepted for publication are not returned to authors. E-versions of the manuscripts are kept in the office of the Editorial Board for five years.
9. The Editorial Board does not keep the manuscripts that were not accepted for publication.
10. The manuscripts that receive negative feedback from reviewers are not published and are not returned to the author.
